

Company Profile- Nextbit Tech

Nextbit Tech started its journey by winning CED business plan competition 2016. Nextbit aims to create a technological revolution in Bangladesh by providing marketing technology solution to diverse companies. Nextbit wants to connect talented freelancers with businesses to meet market needs in a strategic manner. At the same time, this company is also working with a new innovative business model called “Print on Demand” to sell creative merchandise in US/ Europe Markets.

Current Status:

Nextbit has completed all its legal/formal procedures to be recognized as a registered company. It has already received partial funding from CED after opening a bank account at BRAC Bank. Nextbit is currently focusing on building website and backend technological development activities, team building, organization structure development, research and development etc. Nextbit launched its products along with services by February 15, 2019

Ownership and Employment:

There are three managing partners actively working for Nextbit. Three employees are recruited recently as graphic designer, content writer and digital marketing specialist.